British Warship Too Quick

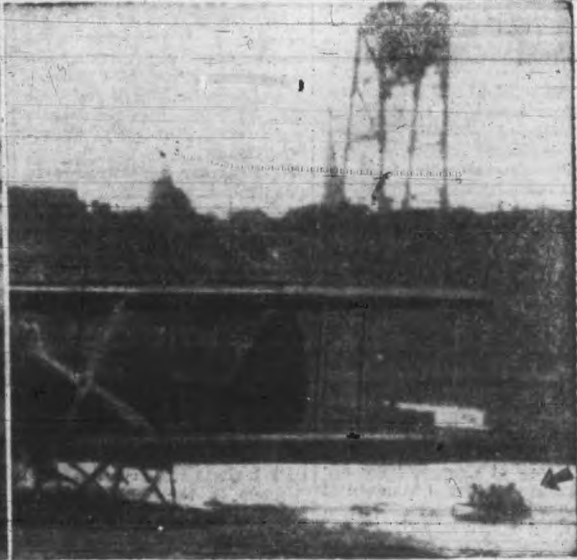

German "super bombs" rained from the sky at this British navy aircraft carrier in the North Sea, fall into the water nearby and explode sending waterspouts skyhigh, but the British ship was too quick in dodging and is safe. This remarkable picture was taken from a British plane. (Acme telephoto radio from London).

Nazi Air Ferry Lands Troops

These two pictures show the arrival of some of the German soldiers who took temporary possession of Rotterdam's airport, and lost it again at the week-end, after a bitter battle with Dutch shock troops. At left, the troops reach shore in a rubber raft from the big flying boat, right, which lands them near the Maas bridge on the Nieuwe Maas River. British bombers aid the land forces in a two-hour attack. If the Germans had been able to hold their grip on Rotterdam, they would have had a base for air attacks on Britain across the narrow channel. Telephoto from London.

'Victory at Any Cost'

Parliament Backs Churchill, 381-0

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill today told the House of Commons he had only one policy—to wage war with one aim, to achieve victory, when appealing for a vote of confidence in his new administration. As a symbol of Britain's new political unity, the House unanimously declared confidence in the Churchill government, the vote being 381 to 0. The House of Lords also accorded the new government a unanimous vote of confidence and both Houses then adjourned till May 21.

Clement Attlee, Lord Privy Seal, sat on one side of him on the Treasury bench and Neville Chamberlain, Lord President of the Council, on the other.

When he entered the chamber before the short debate, Mr. Churchill was cheered loudly, but Neville Chamberlain, a minute later, received an even bigger cheer.

2 COUNTED OUT

Only two voices were raised against the new coalition, those of James Maxton, Scottish pacifist and anti-war advocate, and his fellow member of the Independent Labor Party, Campbell Stephen.

They forced the House to a division on the Prime Minister's motion but, having to act as "tellers"—counters—for the "no's" they could not vote in the lobby, and had no votes to count. Opening his address, Mr. Churchill said: "On Friday evening last I received from His Majesty the mission to form a new administration.

BROAD FOUNDATION

"It was evident that the will of Parliament and the nation that this should be conceived on the broadest possible basis and that it should include all parties. "I have already completed the most important part of this task. A war cabinet has been formed of five members representing with Labor opposition and Liberals the unity of the nation. "It was necessary that this should be done in one single day on account of the extreme urgency and rigor of events.

"Other key positions were filled yesterday. I am submitting a further list to the King tonight, I hope to complete the appointment of principal ministers during tomorrow.

"The appointment of other ministers usually takes a little longer. I trust when Parliament meets again this part of my task will be completed and that the administration will be complete in all respects.

IN PUBLIC INTEREST

"I considered it in the public interest to suggest to the Speaker that the House should be summoned today.

"At the end of today's proceedings the adjournment of the House will be proposed until May 21, with provision for earlier meeting if need be," the Prime Minister said.

"Business for that will be notified to M.P.'s at the earliest opportunity. "I now invite the House to record its approval of the steps taken and declare its confidence in the new government. The resolution:

"That this House welcomes the formation of a government representing the united and inflexible resolve of the nation, to prosecute the war with Germany to a victorious conclusion."

"To form an administration of this scale and complexity is a serious undertaking in itself. But we are in the preliminary phase of one of the greatest battles in history. We are in action at many other points—in Norway and in Holland—and we have to be prepared in the Mediterranean. The air battle is continuing, and many preparations have to be made here at home.

"In the crisis I think I may be pardoned if I do not address the House at any length today, and I hope that any of my friends and colleagues, or former colleagues, who are affected by the political reconstruction, will make all allowances for any lack of ceremony with which it has been necessary to act.

"I say to the House, as I said to ministers who have joined this government, I have nothing to offer but blood, toil, tears and sweat.

"We have before us an ordeal of the most grievous kind. We have before us many, many months of struggle and suffering," said Mr. Churchill.

"You ask, What is our policy? I say that it is to wage war by land, sea and air. War with all our might and with all the strength God has given us, and to wage war against a monstrous tyranny never surpassed in the dark and lamentable catalogue of human crime. That is our policy."

SINGLE OBJECTIVE

"You ask, what is our aim? I can answer in one word. It is victory. Victory at all costs—victory in spite of all terrors—victory, however long and hard the road may be, for without victory there is no survival," he said in ringing tones.

"Let that be realized. No survival for the British Empire, no survival for all that the British Empire has stood for, no survival for the urge, the impulse of the ages, that mankind shall move forward towards its goal."

"I take up my task in buoyancy and hope. I feel sure that our cause will not be suffered to fail among men. "I feel entitled at this juncture in this time to claim the aid of all and to say 'Come then, let us go forward together with our united strength.'"

Asked whether a general discussion of the war would be likely in the week following Parliament's reassembly, Mr. Churchill said:

"I am anxious, and indeed resolved, to carry the House of Commons along with the government at every stage in our fortunes as they unfold. It is by the strength of the House of Commons that we shall be largely sustained in this conflict.

"At the present time we are in the preliminaries of a very great battle and I do not know what the position will be when we meet again. "Obviously if there is a general desire in the near future for a statement on the military situation and if there is a wish to have a general debate, arrangements can be made for it and I shall be glad to receive representations on that."

DECLARATION APPROVED

Members of the House generally approved the declaration of the Prime Minister. Sir Percy Harris, Liberal, said Mr. Churchill had "the necessary vigor and imagination for the task ahead."

H. B. Lees-Smith, Labor, praised the Prime Minister's "fighting and stirring and noble words which he has addressed to the nation."

David Lloyd George, Liberal, supported the motion and offered personal good wishes to his "old friend—the new Prime Minister." Congratulating the country on Mr. Churchill's elevation "at this very critical, terrible moment," Mr. Lloyd George lauded the Prime Minister's "glittering intellectual gifts, dauntless courage and profound study of war, his experience in its operation and direction."

With emphasis, he added: "They will all be needed now."

First Time in Warfare

Tanks, Cars in Mass Clash in Terrific Battle of Machines

PARIS (AP)—French, Belgian and the Dutch troops in Belgium and the Netherlands were falling back in accordance with strategic plans tonight before savage onslaughts of German motorized advance guards supported by air bombardments. A French war ministry spokesman announced.

The authorized commentator described the day's activity as a general German attack "from Holland to the Moselle River," where France's Maginot Line blocks the German push westward.

ALLIES CONFIDENT OF 'WALL'

The Allied withdrawal, he emphasized, could not be considered a retreat.

The Allies have erected a "wall on which the great battle will be fought," the spokesman declared. He did not say where this "wall" is located.

In Belgium, south of Liege, French and Belgian troops were dropping back to the Meuse River in the face of a German attack by several divisions of infantry and by additional divisions of motorized units.

In the Netherlands, the Dutch troops were retreating to the Grebbe water line, the spokesman said. Despite violent fighting, the French still held Longwy in the junction of the Belgian, Luxembourg and French borders.

French Tanks

Stop German Troops

By AXEL DE HOLSTEIN

PARIS (CPHavas)—For the first time in modern warfare, two great masses of armored cars and tanks met last night in full impact when French motorized forces stopped the German advance near Tongres, in Belgium, nine miles from the Dutch border and 15 miles from the Meuse River.

French military quarters said it was the first time that two large and comparatively evenly matched armored forces met in a direct, frontal clash. The French machines proved themselves at least the equals of the German since they succeeded in halting the German drive past Tongres.

The French motorized force was the spearhead of an Allied counter-attack against German forces which had been subjected throughout the day to aerial attack, suffering heavy losses in men and machines.

COVERING ACTION

All operations still had a vanguard character since the major forces on either side have as yet come to grips. The French and British motorized forces which met the Germans at several points were fulfilling the task of aiding the Dutch and Belgian troops cover the arrival in position of the main Allied forces. Their task is to retard the German advance sufficiently to give the major Allied forces ample time to move up.

This movement of the main Allied forces, a military spokesman said, is not only proceeding according to plan, but is still far ahead of schedules previously fixed in general staff plans.

The German units had been dispatched from the direction of Maastricht, where yesterday they succeeded in breaking through one of the forts in the Liege system of fortifications and moving in force northwestward toward Hasselt, and southwestward toward Tongres. These were the forces attacked both on land and from the air by the Allied counter-offensive yesterday.

British Tanks Go Into Action

By DREW MIDDLETON Associated Press Staff Writer
WITH THE BRITISH EXPEDITIONARY FORCE IN BELGIUM (delayed)—Tanks and armored cars of the British expeditionary Force, threw their first fire into the advancing Germans today and there was no doubt that the first great battle of this war had begun.

Informed sources told me that Germans had two armored divisions in the van of the attack, synchronized with a terrific aerial bombing.

Despite serious losses in the Netherlands, Belgium and France—placed by some in the neighborhood of 200 planes—the German fliers still are hammering at their objectives.

A new front was established by landings of German parachute troops behind the Allied lines.

HOTEL SHAKEN

As I write, this dingy hotel shakes with the thuds of bombs falling outside the town and with the deep "twung, twung" of anti-aircraft batteries.

I have been on the continent just 36 hours, but I have heard sirens scream the "alerte" 11 times, seen six Nazi bombers methodically lay their eggs, watched two fall burning to earth and seen scars of their operations.

A railway which Germans bombed at dawn was uncut. A French observer counted 18 craters, but said proudly "They were hurried, those devils, look..."

Sure enough, there was a train chugging steadily along the tracks.

In a journey of nearly 300 miles over this little nation there was grim evidence of what total war means.

There was two-way traffic on the roads. Moving toward the distant sound of guns were British men, materials and munitions in trucks, widely spaced to offer unattractive bombing targets.

MANY REFUGEES

Moving slowly away from the guns was another army, the army of homeless and stricken. Refugees went through the thick white dust toward the safety that may lie behind the lines.

The rich rode in cars, the poor in trucks, on burdened bicycles, or walked. "We knew nothing," they said. "Friday morning there came the explosion. Our windows broke. The little boy across the street—so bright a little boy—is dead. So we left."

Final Bulletins

NOW IN LONDON

WILHELMINA OF HOLLAND

LONDON (CP)—Queen Wilhelmina of Holland arrived in England tonight. She was met at Liverpool Street station by King George, who welcomed her to England.

She came only a few hours after the arrival of Crown Princess Juliana, heir to the Dutch throne, Prince Consort Bernhard and their two small daughters.

The Queen came to England aboard a British warship amid reports of "fifth column" plots to kidnap the Royal Family.

Toll Taken of Nazis

PARIS (AP)—German troops made progress "to the south of the lower Meuse (Mass) River in Holland," but, in Belgium, French forces inflicted "heavy losses" on the enemy during a counter-attack, the French high command announced tonight.

Quits the Hague

AMSTERDAM (CPHavas)—The Netherlands radio tonight announced that the Dutch government had left the Hague for an undisclosed destination.

(From Hilversum the Dutch commander-in-chief issued a proclamation saying the government had moved to maintain complete freedom of action.)

Repair Rotterdam

LONDON (AP)—A reassuring sign in the fight to stem the German invasion of Holland was seen late today in an announcement broadcast from Amsterdam calling on carpenters, bricklayers and building workers to start repair work on Rotterdam, the British Broadcasting Corporation said in a news broadcast.

Germans Lose Ships

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The Norwegian telegraph agency reported from "somewhere in Norway" today that a German attempt to land troops to help the besieged garrison at Narvik failed when several transport ships were sunk. No details were given.

U.S. Fleet Moves

HONOLULU (AP)—Powerful units of the United States fleet were ordered from Pearl Harbor to Lahaina Roads today for further training practice in Hawaiian waters which the navy department unexpectedly ordered last week.

40 More Nazis Down

LONDON (CP)—An Air Ministry communique tonight said British fighters had shot down more than "40 more" German airplanes and "successfully" bombed German columns in Belgium and Luxembourg.

(This was in addition to the 400 German planes reported by French authorities to have been brought down in the first three and a half days of the Nazi drive in the lowlands.)

Cracked By Allies

BASEL, Switzerland (AP)—French artillery and Allied air bombs late today shattered part of the Istein railroad tunnel under Germany's "Gibraltar of the Rhine."

This destruction closed to military traffic a section of the vital railway incorporated in the Westwall fortifications.

Passenger traffic on this German Rhine line was cut off after an attack on a freight train near Istein by a French warplane Saturday.

STOCKS TUMBLE

All stock and commodity markets were hard hit today by the war developments in Europe.

In Chicago wheat was off three cents. The Winnipeg Grain Exchange was closed owing to the Arbor Day holiday.

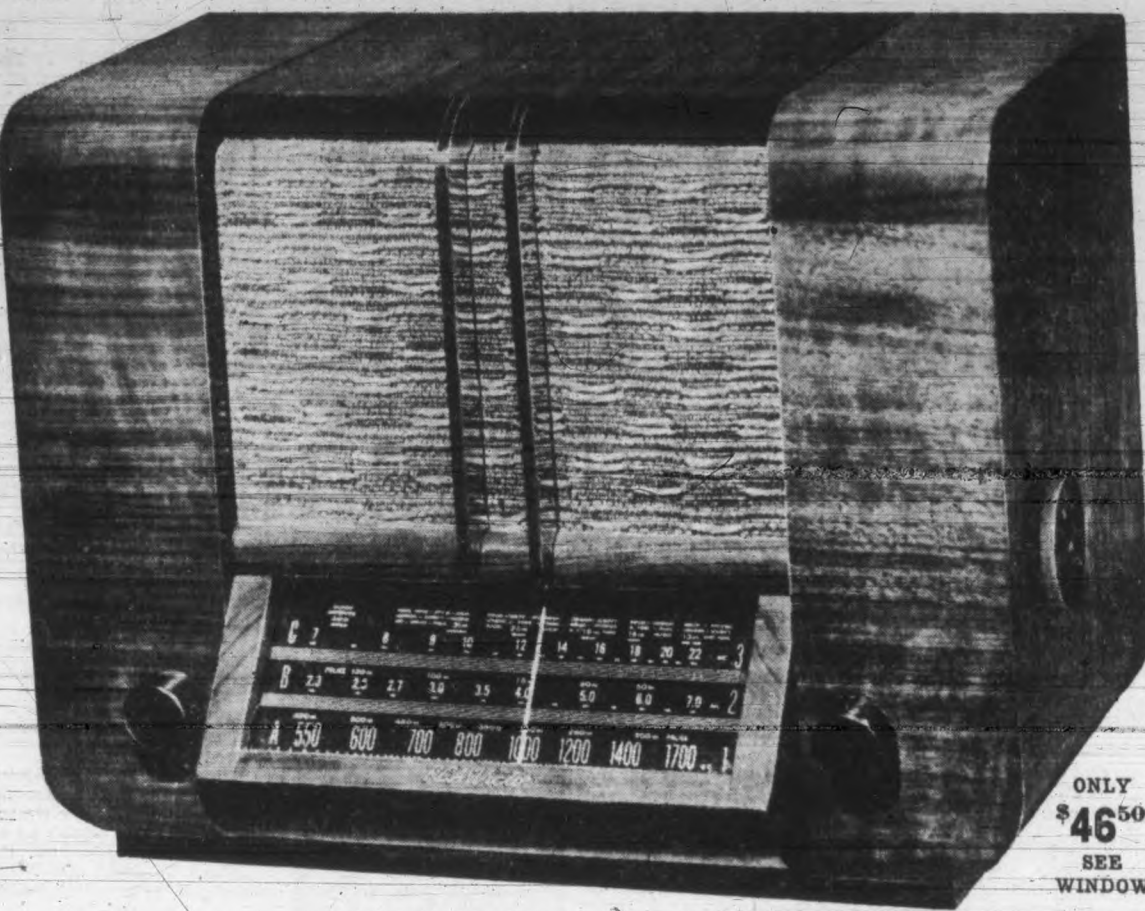

On Wall Street stocks fell from two to more than seven points, and Dow Jones averaged for 30 industrials stood at 137.55, off 7.27. Total sales reached 2,500,000, the largest in eight months. Liquidation of Netherlands marginal accounts was given as the reason for selling wave.

At Montreal prices tumbled one to six points. Toronto also witnessed its widest declines in many months. Prices were generally lower at Vancouver in active trading.

Nelson, a logger, was killed at 3.30 Saturday afternoon in an automobile accident on Slawish Hill, near Comox, his car running out of control on the downgrade and crashing into a telephone pole. The impact cut the pole off at the base and the car continued on through a barbed-wire fence. Mr. and Mrs. O. Joice of Campbell River, passengers in the car, were not believed to have been injured. Nelson was reported to Provincial taken to hospital. Nelson was married, but his home address was not known today.

'Secret Weapon'?

BERLIN (AP) — An amazing secret weapon, or "angriffsmittel," by use of which the German high command says its air force subdued Fort Eben Emael, one of the strongest in the Liege-Albert Canal defence zone of Belgium, had foreign observers wondering whether Adolf Hitler has found the tool with which to win the war.

A handful of airmen evidently landed by use of this weapon in the centre of the fort. If official news agency reports can be interpreted correctly, and the surrender of a thousand bewildered Belgians ensued.

What was it? No one who knew would tell—but here are three guesses heard:

1. The mysterious bomb which the Germans are credited with using in Barcelona during the Spanish civil war, one projectile destroying several square blocks.
2. An unchallengeable flame thrower.
3. A secret device magnetically, or otherwise, to render girds or ammunition impotent.

The high command and other official sources, naturally, declined to comment.

It is known, however, that the fortress is a high-walled block of masonry at the juncture of the Maas (Meuse) River and the Albert Canal. It bristles with light, heavy and anti-aircraft guns.

It is about a mile in circumference with an open court perhaps 600 to 800 yards in diameter. Here, DNB indicated, the little air detachment under one Lieutenant Witzig landed, employing the mysterious weapon, and made the powerful fortress an easy mark for the attacking column from the north.

The mysterious weapon was the main news here after three days of invasion which the Germans say has placed approximately half of Holland's territory in their hands.

'Win the War' Cabinet

Churchill Fills More Cabinet Posts

By J. F. SANDERSON

LONDON (CP) — Prime Minister Churchill rounded out the national government at the weekend by filling most of the top jobs of his cabinet.

The new Prime Minister reached into the camps of three political parties for the men he wanted for "Win the War" government.

All members of the war cabinet will be freed from departmental responsibilities to concentrate on the major task of drafting war strategy.

They are: Prime Minister and Minister of Defence, Mr. Churchill; Lord President of the Council, Neville Chamberlain; Lord Privy Seal, Clement Attlee; Labor Parliamentary Leader, Foreign Secretary, Viscount Halifax; Without portfolio, Arthur Greenwood, Deputy Labor Leader.

The three fighting services will be administered by new men. Rt. Hon. A. V. Alexander returns to the Admiralty post he held in the last Labor government. Sir Archibald Sinclair, Scottish Laird who leads the Liberal Party, replaces Sir Samuel Hoare as Air Secretary. Anthony Eden steps across Whitehall from the Dominions Office to the War Office.

Mr. Churchill named Sir John Simon to the position of Lord Chancellor, which carries with it the Speakership of the House of Lords, and Sir Kingsley Wood, who had been Lord Privy Seal, succeeded Sir John as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

DUFF COOPER IN

Alfred Duff Cooper, a former Conservative minister, became Minister of Information, and Herbert Morrison, Labor Prime Minister of London, became Supply Minister.

Other appointments: Sir John Anderson, Home Secretary and Minister of Home Security. A re-appointment.

Lord Lloyd, Colonial Secretary. Sir Andrew Duncan, President of the Board of Trade, a re-appointment.

SIMON MOVES

The biggest surprise so far has been the appointment of Sir Kingsley Wood as Chancellor of the Exchequer, with Sir John Simon going to the House of Lords, closing a long career in the House of Commons for one of Britain's most distinguished constitutional lawyers. Except for short intervals, he has been a member of the House since 1906.

As a symbol of the new political unity, Mr. Churchill took Mr. Attlee and Mr. Greenwood into the war cabinet which will direct the nation's war effort on broad general lines, with Mr. Churchill responsible for day-to-day military operations on all fronts.

This leaves the three service ministers free for departmental specialization, working directly under the Prime Minister.

Appointment of Lord Lloyd to the Colonial Office reflected Mr. Churchill's many years of keen interest in problems of the Near East. Lord Lloyd has been a commissioner for Egypt and the Sudan, and served in Egypt.

Gallipoli, Mesopotamia and the Hedjaz in the last war.

Although Sir Archibald Sinclair is not in the war cabinet, he will be consulted in his capacity as leader of the Liberal party. "An announcement said:

"The leaders of the three parties participating in the government, whether members of the war cabinet or not, will be consulted when questions arise affecting the general character and aims of the government, including the conditions of peace."

CROWD GATHERS

A great crowd gathered outside Buckingham Palace while the new cabinet was being sworn in, and gave the ministers a great cheer when they left. As Lord President of the Council, in which capacity he presides over the Privy Council, Mr. Chamberlain was sworn in first, followed by Mr. Churchill.

LONDON (CP)—Prime Minister Churchill tonight announced additional appointments to the new government.

Ernest Bevin, secretary of the General Transport Union, was named labor minister, succeeding Ernest Brown.

L. C. M. S. Amery, Conservative, was appointed Secretary of State for India, succeeding the Marquess of Zetland.

Malcolm MacDonald, formerly Colonial Secretary, was made Minister of Health, succeeding Walter Elliot.

Lord Woolton was re-appointed Minister of Food.

Mr. Bevin, one of the most prominent of the trade union leaders, is not at present a member of the House of Commons. A seat probably will be found for him. He will be sworn in as a member of the Privy Council immediately.

Counter-attack In Belgium Stalls Germans

PARIS (CP)—A heavy counter-attack launched last night stalled the German drive into Belgium in the Tongres area, nine miles from the Dutch border, military sources reported today.

The counter-attack was carried out by motorized French forces. Tongres, 12 miles northwest of Liege, is midway between Maasricht, Netherlands, border city, and Waremmes, Belgium.

Belgian troops are under heavy enemy pressure in the Ardennes forest area. Heavy fighting is under way along the length of the Franco-Luxembourg border, from Longwy to the banks of the Moselle.

A German attack to the east of the Moselle, which marks the southeastern Luxembourg border, was reported repulsed.

No general offensive was reported from the Maginote Line proper, but the Nazis have been

Calgarian Killed In R.A.F. Flight

CALGARY (CP)—Flying officer Russell Hieland Dingle, 26, of Calgary, was killed yesterday in one of the terrific air battles raging over Europe.

A terse official message conveyed the news to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dingle.

The cable from London read, "Immediate from Air Ministry, deeply regret to inform you that your son, Flying Officer Russell Hieland Dingle, is reported as having lost his life as the result of air operations May 12, 1940. Letter follows:

The Air Council express their profound sympathy. (Signed) Under-Secretary of State, Air Ministry."

Flying officer Dingle went to England in October, 1935, and joined the Royal Air Force.

A brother, W. H. Dingle, 21 years, is serving with the Royal Canadian Corps of Signals at Ottawa.
Before proceeding to England, Flying Officer Dingle held a commission as machine gun and signal officer in the 13th Machine Gun Company, nonpermanent militia, Calgary.

Royal Heirs Leave Holland

PRINCESS JULIANA PRINCE BERNHARD

LONDON (AP)—The heirs to the Royal house of the Netherlands—Princess Juliana, her husband, Prince Bernhard, and their two children—arrived in London today.

Princess Juliana led her two-year-old daughter Beatrix by the hand, while nine-month-old Irene was brought in a gasproof box. Prince Bernhard carried one end of the box and a nurse the other.

The Earl of Harewood, brother-in-law of King George, met the Royal family at the station.

A communique issued by the foreign office, with authority from the Dutch legation, stated: "It is, of course, of paramount importance even if the worst should happen (for which fortunately there is no indication at present) that the Royal house of Orange-Massau should be safe."

Attlee's Course Endorsed British Labor Votes National Unity

BOURNEMOUTH, Eng. (CP)—The Labor party conference today voted overwhelming approval of a Labor mandate to join the national government under Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The delegates ratified the action already taken by Major Clement Attlee, Labor leader, who has become Lord Privy Seal in the new government, and Arthur Greenwood, minister without portfolio, by 2,413,000 to 170,000.

The vote was taken on a basis of members represented.

The resolution presented by Mr. Attlee and adopted by the conference said: "This conference endorses unanimously the decision of the national executive committee that the labor party should take its share of responsibility as full partner in the new government which, under a new prime minister, commands the confidence of the nation."

"This conference further pledges its support to the new government in its effort to secure a swift victory and a just peace."

"Can we continue our peaceful construction if all the other continents embrace by preference or by compulsion a wholly different principle of life?" he inquired.

"Surely it is time for our republics to spread that problem before us in the cold light of day. 'I am a pacifist. You, my fellow citizens of 21 American republics, are pacifists.'"

"But I believe that by overwhelming majorities you and I, in the long run, and if it be necessary, will act together to protect and defend by every means our science, our culture, our freedom and our civilization."

SHOCKED, ANGERED
He said the world had just seen "three more independent nations... cruelly invaded."

"In some human affairs," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "the mind of man grows accustomed to unusual actions if they are not repeated. That is not so in the world happenings of today—and I am proud that it is not so."

"I am glad that we are shocked and angered by the tragic news from Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg."

Many members of both Houses of Congress praised Mr. Roosevelt's address.

Stephen Early, Mr. Roosevelt's press secretary, said 9 out of every 10 of several thousand telegrams received at the White House in regard to the speech applauded it. The remaining 10 per cent, he added, were from persons who favored "peace at any price."

He told the scientists: MISUSE OF INVENTIONS

"What has come about has been caused solely by those who would use, and are using your inventions of peace in a wholly different cause—those who seek to dominate hundreds of millions of people in vast continental areas—those who, if successful in that aim will, we must now admit, enlarge their wild dream to encompass every human being and every mile of the earth's surface."

Of the distance which lies between the Americas and the battlefield of Europe, he asserted: "Today we know that until recent weeks too many citizens of the American republics believed themselves wholly safe—physically and economically and socially—from the impact of the attacks on civilization which are in progress elsewhere."

"Perhaps this mistaken idea was based on the false teaching of geography—the thought that a distance of several thousand miles from war-torn Europe gave some form of mystic immunity which could never be violated."

Gen. Matthews Dies in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Major-General Harold H. Matthews, 63, adjutant-general of the Canadian military forces, died at his home here yesterday. He had been ill for some time.

His death brought to an end a distinguished military career, during which he held high posts in the Canadian forces in the first Great War and the permanent force since then.

Born at Lower Harford, Gloucestershire, England, in 1877, he was educated in England, coming to Canada in 1894.

He was commissioned as a lieutenant in the British Columbia Horse in 1910 and rose through the various ranks to become second in command of the regiment in March, 1914.

He went overseas in 1914 with the first contingent as an officer in the 8th Infantry Battalion. He served with that unit until June, 1916, when he was wounded, and again for the last nine months with the 8th Battalion, of which he was in command.

His next command was the Canadian troops stationed at Hastings, England, and this brought him the rank of colonel. Later he returned to France and served as general staff officer at headquarters of the First Division.

After the war, Gen. Matthews served in various posts, including that of commandant of the Royal Military College at Kingston.

As adjutant-general he was one of the key figures in the organization of the Canadian military forces prior to and at the outbreak of the present war. On him fell much of the burden of planning the military end of the national war effort and getting the forces up to wartime strength.

For his services in the first Great War General Matthews was made a companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George, awarded the Distinguished Service Order and the Croix de Guerre (Belgium) and was four times mentioned in dispatches.

General Matthews was married first to Miss Esther Riley in 1903. She died in 1912 and in 1926 he married Miss Helen Le Sueur, who survives him.

Full military honors will be accorded when the funeral takes place from All Saints Church here Tuesday afternoon. Interment will be in Beechwood Cemetery.

German Drive Follows Lines Allies Expected

LONDON (CP)—An authoritative British source today said the main German attack on the lowlands was developing as expected and was attempting to drive a wedge between the Belgian and Dutch armies.

There were many indications, not necessarily military, this British source said, that the Nazis "will stake almost everything in an attempt to win this war quickly."

Britons were urged not to be disheartened "when they hear of certain withdrawals and should not be unduly pessimistic," he said in emphasizing that reports for the next few days would be obscure, scarce and often inaccurate.

Information regarding parachute troops in Rotterdam and The Hague, he said, was obscure and frequently contradictory.

COME DOWN DISGUISED

German parachutists, he said, all very highly trained in offensive technique are "armed to the teeth." He charged they were chosen for ruthlessness and wore Allied uniforms, civilian clothes, police and postal uniforms and even women's dresses.

AIR BATTLES

He asserted the number of German planes destroyed in air combats, by anti-aircraft and on the ground was believed to exceed 200. The number included Messerschmitt fighters shot down by the Royal Air Force, he said.

He denied there was any truth in a German claim that 20 British Spitfires had been shot down, saying only that one of that type had been damaged. (German claims were widened today in a report of the German news agency that 36 Spitfires had been shot down in the Netherlands.)

WEEKLY SHOOT

The Rainbow Rifle Club held its weekly shoot on Saturday. Scores, out of a possible 100, were as follows:

A class—W. Brown 99, R. Ferguson 99, P. Mackenzie 98, J. Gwilt 97, H. Davies 94; B class—J. Butcher 94; C class—D. Burd 90, E. Grant 90, Coverdale 88, J. Drysdale 86, C. Hammett 84; E. Restall 78, L. Restall 74, G. Callow 64, B. Blyth 62 and G. Brown 54.

20,000 British Aid Dutch Army

AMSTERDAM (AP)—Amsterdam had two air-raid alarms today at 4.30 a.m. and 6.55 a.m. (8.10 p.m. and 10.35 p.m. P.S.T.) and it was reported German planes had dropped a number of parachute troopers.

The troops were said to have dropped from several German planes that flew over the city after daylight. However, the army quickly had the situation in hand, it was reported, and the city generally was quiet.

Dutch troops meanwhile cleaned up fifth-column snipers in the southern section of the city, where there was fighting during the night.

Withdrawn to new positions in central and southern Holland, Dutch army engaged the Germans in heavy fighting along a re-drawn front, with 20,000 British troops bolstering their central positions and French reinforcements in contact with the Nazis in the south.

PARACHUTISTS MOPPED UP

At the same time the Dutch high command announced the army was "completely master of the situation" in the interior. Enemy parachute troops virtually were cleared out of Rotterdam, where they still held the Wallhaven airport but were unable to use it because of heavy Dutch artillery fire. Elsewhere they were reported wiped out or "rendered harmless."

Strenuous measures were put into effect throughout the country to guard against any further uprisings by traitorous or planted fifth-columnists.

Civilians in the Hague, seat of the government, were ordered to keep their doors and windows closed, and assembling of three or more persons in the streets was forbidden.

Curfew already was in effect in the Hague, a new order from the commander of the army in the field banned civilians from the streets between 8 p.m. and 8 a.m. in all areas east of a line running from Amsterdam south to the Belgian border—town of Zundert, and in the entire province of North-Brabant, which borders on Belgium.

FIGHTS AT RIVERS

The Dutch disclosed German troops had pushed their advance across the Naas (Meuse) and IJssel-Rivers at several points. But an early morning communique from the high command said that:

Netherlands border troops were withdrawn "virtually without damage."

Dutch aircraft bombarded the Nazi columns; French troops coming to the relief of the Netherlands' 400,000-man army engaged the enemy in the eastern part of North Brabant, where the Naas runs north just inside the German border; British troops were reported occupying land and flood-water defence posts in central Holland.

Former Wrestling Champion Is Dead

WHYCOCOMAGH, N.S. (CP)—Dr. Hugh N. MacDonald, once wrestling champion of America, is dead at 83.

He was known to Cape Bretoners as "Dr. Hudy," during the 48 years he practiced medicine in the rural districts of Cape Breton Island. During recent years he devoted himself to a study of the Celtic MacDonald and MacKinnon families, from which he sprang.

It was while he was a medical student at Queen's University that he attained wrestling fame. In a match at college, he defeated Lynch, then wrestling champion of America. The next day he went out on the track and won a gold medal for his general athletic proficiency.

"This Savage Beast"

ONE OF THE GREATEST BATTLES IN history has begun or is about to begin in Europe. Nazi Germany has resorted to every conceivable device to gain the initial advantage. She invaded three more countries without warning. Having brushed aside all considerations which have regard for the proprieties of international law, she now obviously feels herself free to go the whole hog in the prosecution of her brutalitarian program, which, of course, means that she will stop at nothing to gain the objective which Adolf Hitler has set. The ultimate aim of the Nazi leader, with or without assistance from other totalitarian states, is the destruction of the British and French empires. The peoples of the Allied countries, therefore, must do all their thinking, and plan their individual and collective assistance accordingly. Nor need they waste any further consideration about the fate of the citizens of the Nazi Reich. The time has gone by for the drawing of any fine line of demarcation between the German government and the German people. Hitler and the Nazi oligarchy represent the old Germany revitalized by the acquisition of new territory and wider influence through the employment of the foulest means.

"This savage beast"—to use Mr. Chamberlain's term—is now clearly exposed to all the world. He is strong, he is resourceful; he has been preparing for this total war for years. He has the advantage for the time being, of course, because he has adopted methods to which only the gangster resorts. But the element of surprise is considerably less now than it was in the case of Denmark and Norway. Both Holland and Belgium were ready for practically anything the German High Command could spring. But it also should be remembered by those inclined to undue pessimism that unless and until the request for it had gone out British and French aid could be sent only after the assault had become a fait accompli and threatened their own military defenses. True, Nazi legions are in various parts of the Netherlands, in Belgium and in Luxembourg, but within a few hours after the blow had been struck British and French troops, air men, and mechanized units began to meet the invader.

As the hours pass, still more British and French aid is being rushed to the various areas where fierce fighting is in progress. Names which became household words in the first Great War are again in the news. This time peaceful Dutch villages and cities, too, are being shattered by the ruthless Hun. And for some time, perhaps until the main forces are brought into contact, the tide of battle will ebb and flow. What strikes the layman as significant, however, is the fact that the much-vaunted "Blitzkrieg" has not developed in the manner anticipated. Military experts had predicted that total war, when it came, would be preceded by no preliminaries, diplomatic or otherwise, save the roar of German airplanes blackening the sky and reducing everything beneath them to a meaningless pulp. But the "Battle of the West" is not Poland. It may develop, nevertheless, into a final decision. Adolf Hitler will not be the victor. He, at least, missed one bus.

Solid Unity

IF GERMANY'S INVASION OF THE LOW Countries was timed to take advantage of Britain's "political crisis", as it has been suggested in some quarters, it is fairly plain that Adolf Hitler has learned little about British psychology since he took office in 1933. We said in these columns last Thursday that "it bodes ill for all enemies of Great Britain when the elected representatives of her people clear the parliamentary decks for action, figuratively tear one another limb from limb, and expose all the nation's weaknesses to the full gaze of those who seek her destruction."

On the following day, he it noted, Prime Minister Chamberlain resigned and Mr. Winston Churchill began to form a new government. In the meantime he has gathered round him men whose record in the public service of their country has been distinguished very largely by their far-seeing judgment in most particulars, and their bitter antipathy to all policies which have savored of weakness in dealing with the aggressor nations. Mr. Eden, now Secretary of State for War, and Mr. Duff Cooper, appointed Minister of Information, are two staunch Conservatives who resigned from the ministry in 1938 because of its foreign policy. And what the House of Commons thinks about the new Prime Minister's choice of ministerial colleagues was reflected in the vote of confidence it passed as it adjourned for the Whit Sunday recess this afternoon. This was 381 in favor and 0 against!

While it is for Hitler to make what he can out of the passing of Britain's political free-for-all, if he really believed his new outrage could profit by it, it is fitting that particular emphasis be placed on the valedictory remarks of Mr. Chamberlain as he quietly stepped aside for his successor. The following are notable words: "And you and I must now put all our strength behind the new government and we must fight until this savage beast who has sprung out of his lair at us is finally overthrown." Those are the sentiments which all the peoples of the Allied countries will accept as a new rallying cry. As Lord President of the Council the former Prime Minister's intimate knowledge of what has transpired since last September 3 will at all times be available to his colleagues of the war cabinet—the quintette pledged to reach Britain's sole objective, which, the new Prime Minister says, is "victory, victory at all costs, in spite of all horrors." And another event took place today which brutalitarian Adolf should note well: The Labor Party conference at Bournemouth voted 2,413,000 against 170,000 endorsing the decision that its organization "should take its share of responsibility as full partner in the new government," and "pledges its support in its effort to secure a swift victory and a just peace."

Not the least important among the good wishes tendered to Mr. Churchill are those to which Mr. Lloyd George gave voice in support of the confidence motion. He lauded his "old friend" and congratulated the country on his elevation to this very critical, terrible moment. To his (Mr. Churchill's) "glittering intellectual gifts, dauntless courage and profound study of war, the experience in its operation and direction," the ageing but still mentally alert son of Wales paid especial tribute. All this added together, therefore, will give Adolf Hitler furiously to think before we are much older.

Courageous Finland

THAT COURAGE WHICH THE FINNS showed in their short but disastrous war with Soviet Russia is being shown equally in their brave effort at reconstruction. Take a comparison worked out by one statistician: If the United States had suffered losses proportional to those of Finland, 600,000 of her best men would be dead and 2,000,000 wounded. There would be 20,000,000 homeless after having been driven from five states, and property losses of a billion and a half would be faced. Courageously, Finland is developing whole new sections of Helsinki, resettling her homeless, rebuilding the homes and factories bombed and shelled to ruin in the war. A world which admired Finland at war is likely to admire her equally in peace.

Looking Back

MR. LLOYD GEORGE'S TRIBUTE TO Mr. Churchill's fitness to lead Great Britain at this stage in her history recalls the speech which "the little Welshman" delivered in the House of Commons in 1916 when, from all quarters, came the complaint that the machinery of government under Mr. Asquith was inadequate to the task which lay ahead. Serbia had just suffered overwhelming defeat and this is what Mr. Lloyd George said in his famous "too late" speech against his own chief at that time: "Too late in moving here! Too late in arriving there! Too late in coming to this decision! Too late in starting that enterprise! Too late in preparing! In this way the footsteps of the Allied forces have been dogged by the mocking spectre of 'Too Late'; and, unless we quicken our movements, damnation will fall on the sacred cause for which so much gallant blood has flowed." Soon after that Mr. Lloyd George became Prime Minister and called in men of outstanding ability to assist him. At 77, the man, to use the late Lord Balfour's definition of him, "who won the greatest war in history" has pledged his support to his "old friend" who now leads the new government.

On an average the occupants of each motor car visiting Canada on a 48-hour permit, spent $22 of United States money. The economic effect is the same as if a foreign order were received for $22 of Canadian goods or services. For a stay of more than two days, expenditures in Canada for each motor load averages $80. Such figures emphasize the importance of tourist trade in building up our exchange in the United States. Last year the motor tourist total was $165,000,000. This year with the 10 per cent premium allowed on United States money it should be more.

A Half Century of Humanitarianism

From Toronto Star
Reviewing the other day his 50 years in parliament, Lloyd George made special reference to two great reforms which have marked the past half century; the one a reform in government, the other a reform in outlook and action, with regard to human war and suffering. Said the veteran statesman: "One of the greatest changes has been the enfranchisement of the people, the conversion of this country from a state governed by a section of the people into a state governed by the whole population. The other great change has been the change in the attitude of the state towards undeserved poverty. Quite frankly, 50 years ago this was a hard, cruel, merciless world to underserved poverty; poverty which was due to the frailties of old age, sickness, and unemployment."

Lloyd George admitted that there is still much to be done along humanitarian lines—slums to be cleared, children to be given a better chance in life, grievances and miseries to be wiped away. And if it had not been for the cost of wars, much more along that line would already have been accomplished. But in spite of all that, there had been notable reforms in which all should rejoice.

Lloyd George is right in measuring national progress by such things as these, and by whatever measures may serve to improve the lot of the common people and the handicapped classes.

Parallel Thoughts

And they spake unto him, saying, If thou wilt be a servant unto this people this day, and wilt serve them, and answer them, and speak good words to them, then they will be thy servants for ever.—1 Kings 12:7.

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

FUN IN TORONTO

MACLEAN'S MAGAZINE is the latest organ to utter snooty sounds about Victoria. It has picked up an item from a local paper which reported that our local police are "playing a splendid part in war work." And the editors of Maclean's, safe in their Toronto skyscraper, chuckle because the newspaper item goes on to say that, in their splendid war work, the Victoria police have apprehended small boys practising with a bow and arrow. "It is reassuring," says Maclean's "to learn that it took two constables to caution the erring lads."

It is related also that the local constabulary discovered a 12-year-old girl sketching Government House and, "advancing fearlessly upon this potential Mafé Hari, two detectives interrogated her and advised her that, to sketch Government House she must secure official permission."

It is all very funny. Smug and complacent Toronto laughs until it almost bursts the buttons of its morning coat. But we can afford to ignore it. Unwittingly the Powerful Eastern Interests are playing into our hands, contributing free advertising. For it is the absurd legend that we are gently made out here that brings tourists following the birds from all over the continent. If it were once realized that we are a very ordinary people, taking our styles in clothes, houses and ideas from the movies and the American radio, as everybody else in Canada does, then our tourist business would fall off alarmingly.

OLD LEGEND

THANKS TO SUCH publications as MacLean's, the old legend of our hapless lunacy still persists and we should do nothing to destroy it. Indeed, I am prepared to believe that Mr. George Warren cunningly arranged the arrest of the two small boys with bows and arrows and stage-managed the incident of the small girl sketching Government House and then, deliberately planted the whole thing, so that the innocent editors of MacLean's would pick it up and give us an unconscious boost which should be good for thousands of dollars in tourist money.

The tired businessmen of Toronto, looking out on the dull monotonous sanity of their city, looking out on the unhappy robots who inhabit it and all the large cities of America—the tired businessmen of Toronto, reading about a heavenly resort where people are still gently crazy and know how to live, would immediately buy tickets to Victoria and try to become screwy and happy like the rest of us.

Alas, they will fail. You have to be born to it. And the fact is, though it would never do to let MacLean's in on this, that we have grown far too sensible here. The arrest of the two young archers and the youthful sketcher is the only recent evidence that some of the old ideals of this city, some of the ancient eccentricity still survives.

Most of it has gone. Most of the glories that we old-timers remember in our youth. Such things as businessmen going to town on their bicycles, such strange resorts as the old Empress Hotel billiard room where old men used to sit in lonely grandeur all day watching others play billiards, such harmless amusements as rowing up to the Gorge from the Causeway (a great adventure in my time), such strange conveyances as electrical broughams and six-horse tallyhoes, such splendid sights as bars on every corner with mahogany fittings and brass rails and gentlemen in derby hats and huge gold watch chains—these things have all gone.

FINE WITH US

WE ARE NO LONGER quaint at all, but if Toronto wants to think we are and if it wants to come here and spend its good money (taken from us in the first place, so the politicians tell me) then it is fine with us. We will bribe small boys to practise with bows and arrows (where in my time we used to buy real weapons from the Indians and shoot at the quail in Beacon Hill Park). We will hire small girls to sketch Government House and lock them up in jail in order to attract the editors of MacLean's into free publicity, for they are too innocent in Toronto to understand the depth of our cunning. We will continue to lure the tourist here.

And not only that, we are luring the resident as well. Why, we used to think in the old James Bay days that this town was becoming a city when the first house was built in the Fairfield district. We had visions of grandeur when they built the Oak Bay carline. I can remember watching them pave the mud of Rockland Avenue and an old man said we would yet live to see 50,000 people in Victoria! And now look at the darn thing!

It swells and heaves and expands like a balloon in all directions. Houses surge up on all sides. The city sweeps out rampant across the green fields of Saanich and nothing is safe from it. Before we know it we are going to have a metropolis here and it will not be quaint any more. The last touches of lunacy which remain as the only sane remnants in the world will be utterly extinguished.

Very soon Victoria will have disappeared, only the name remaining and we shall be engulfed in prosperity like Toronto. We also shall be observing complacently the oddities of smaller places. Our police will stop arresting young archers and sketchers. But, thank God, most of us, who knew a better time, will be dead then.

CHURCHILL AT LAST

FATE HAS played some strange tricks on men and nations. But never was there a stranger example of that process than in the elevation to the Prime Ministry of Winston Churchill. Just when it appeared that he had fumbled the last chance to attain the office, which people expected him to get decades ago; just when he had made another of the minor faux-pas which have speckled the general brilliance of his career—just then he is thrown into the highest office in the gift of the British Empire chiefly because the able enemy has forced them to do something drastic in a most uncharacteristic hurry.

There is no man in all the world who knows quite so much about the strategy and history of fighting in the Low Countries as the present Prime Minister of Britain. For of the many able books that Mr. Churchill has produced there is none quite so brilliant and detailed as that dealing with the long campaign of his distinguished ancestor, the Duke of Marlborough, reputed to be the only British general who never lost a battle. Nobody has ever doubted the brain power of the man who had already held more political posts than anybody else in British public life. From the very first day that he came to public attention he was recognized as a man of extraordinary intellectual power. Later that was to be something of a handicap to him at times—Mr. Baldwin is said to have confessed that the real reason why he hated to have Mr. Churchill in the same cabinet with him was that Winston could shrivel him in any real argument by the sheer pressure of his brain power.

WINSTON Churchill has been accused of being a political jumping jack. His stepping around to and from parties, and back again, long ago became a stable joke in Britain. In one famous case the judge is supposed to have asked the lawyer to what party Mr. Churchill belonged, and the reply was that the lawyer could not say as he had not seen the morning paper. As a matter of fact Mr. Churchill has throughout his life followed absolutely consistent principles. He has been, and still is, an absolutely unwavering enlightened imperialist. He was the first prominent public man in Britain to fight, day in and day out, against the growing menace of Hitler. His policy was that of complete opposition to that of Mr. Chamberlain. The tide of events carried him into the Chamberlain cabinet, and the tide of events has carried him into the Prime Ministry.

I think that Winston Churchill is the best possible choice to head the present government. He has made many mistakes in his lifetime, and has lived long enough to undo some of the worst of them. But on the big things—the biggest things—he has been absolutely right. The best proof that he is the right man for the job at this time is that Hitler himself recognizes his appointment as proof of Britain's determination to fight the war right through to a complete decision.

In war it is a pretty safe rule to do what the other fellow does not want you to do. Sometimes it is not possible to find out exactly what this is. But in this case everybody knows.

Churchill as Prime Minister is bad news for Hitler.

War Traced to Greeks

Europe's current war lords have stolen their invade-and-slaughter plan directly from the ancient Greeks, according to Ludwig Lewisohn, Jewish author and editor.

"A lot of fools are sputtering about the horrors of 'modern' war," he said, "and about the ruthlessness of 20th Century dictators. What the world really needs now, however, is a reasonable facsimile of power conquests in the Greek and Roman manner of a century before Christ."

"HEIR TO STUPIDITY"

"They used to seize cities and lands, wiping out thousands of non-combatants. So do the dictators today. They devised the system of placing whole nations in slavery. This system has been applied recently to Austria and Czechoslovakia. The ancient leaders, howled about racial purges. Certainly Herr Hitler does."

As much as he dislikes Hitler, however, the author insists that the German chancellor is simply carrying out long-established principles.

"Before Hitler had even learned to be a paperhanger, the villanies he now practices were supported by National Socialists. He is just the heir to the culminative stupidity of his party."

Whatever the origin of blitzkrieg tactics Mr. Lewisohn insists that war and social turmoil have combined to make direct literary treatment of contemporary things "absolutely impossible."

"Writers must now turn to the past," he explained. "The present is too confusing, too oppressive. We must turn to history, but we also must make that history brim

FOR THE NAVY

To the Editor:—The Victoria branch of the Navy League of Canada has been much in the public eye recently. We feel that in these difficult times there are many more of our citizens who would like to co-operate with us by becoming members of the league, and thus, by strengthening our membership, help us to carry on our work. The annual subscription fee is $2, and our hon. secretary, Capt. J. A. Philipson, harbor master's office, 1002 Wharf Street, will be glad to enroll new members sending their subscriptions to him.

The aim of the Navy League of Canada and the United Kingdom is the upkeep and welfare of our navy, the training of boys for the navy and merchant service, the care of the men of both services when on leave, and the comforts for them while they guard our shores and shipping.

Both services are doing a magnificent job for us, so join us in doing something for them.

Working with and for us, the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Navy League is doing a splendid service. Mrs. R. Shanks, 1041 Holmes Street, is the president. Any woman wishing to join this branch will be welcome. Mrs. Shanks will give full particulars.

The Challenge to Industry

The demands of this war may make Canada's industrial production vital to the Empire.

The challenge is met best when employees are given a sense of financial security. They want to know that there will be funds—

- (1) when accident or sickness causes lay-offs
- (2) when hospital and surgical bills must be paid

Had Long Service With Government

Following a lengthy illness which recently confined him to hospital, death came yesterday to James St. Leger Maitland-Dougall, prominent Duncan resident, aged 73 years.

Mr. Maitland-Dougall was government agent at Duncan for 21 years, from 1911 to 1932. His career on Vancouver Island was filled with colorful interest, he having served with distinction with the B.C. Police before taking over the government post.

Mr. Maitland-Dougall was born in Fife, Scotland, in 1867, son of Admiral William Heriot Maitland-Dougall and grandson of the sixth Earl of Lauderdale.

As a young man in his late teens he came to Vancouver Island, visiting Victoria with his brother, Frederick. Soon after he returned to his native heath but again the call of the western world attracted him and he spent three years in Montreal. In the 1890's he came again to British Columbia as a surveyor, assisting in surveying the original townsite for Nelson. Later he was an immigration agent at Vancouver for the Dominion government.

In June, 1892, he joined the B.C. Police at Cowichan and as a member of this force his work attracted the attention of Superintendent Hussey who employed him for various missions in northern B.C. and on the west coast of the island. His splendid work resulted in his appointment as chief constable when the force consisted of 38 men.

After four years in this post he became government agent at Duncan, succeeding H. S. Wellburn. He served under 14 governments in the province. He resigned this post in 1906 to take over the real estate business of J. H. Whitmore but after two years he sold the business back to Mr. Whitmore and accepted an appointment in charge of a new police district at Hazelton. It was during this period he was connected with the famous Gunanoot Indian murder case.

Two years later, in 1911, he was again offered the government agent's post and he accepted, holding the post continuously until 1932.

Two sons, William and Hamish, were killed in the Great War. Mr. Maitland-Dougall is survived by his widow, residing at Duncan and a niece, Mrs. G. G. Share, at Koksilah.

The remains will be forwarded tomorrow from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlor to Davis Funeral Parlor, Duncan, and services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 at St. Peter's Church, Quamichan. Interment will be in Quamichan Cemetery.

SCHOOL PLAYERS DELIGHT AUDIENCE

Boys and girls of the Esquimalt Elementary School Dramatic Club delighted a capacity audience in the Lamson Street School auditorium Friday night in their presentation of two farces, "The Three Princesses" and "The Rehearsal."

Under the direction of Miss D. Williams, the students' showed much talent and were well cast in each play.

"The Three Princesses" which featured an all-girl cast, told the story of a selfish young prince who evolved an elaborate plan to choose a bride from among three princesses. The play ended in a sad note when the princess of his choice refused the royal offer of marriage.

"The Rehearsal" showed the antics of an ambitious author in his efforts to organize a group of actors and actresses to perform his masterpiece. The climax of the farce developed too suddenly for the author and he was left without an ending for his play.

In "The Three Princesses" the following girls were featured: Doreen Eweeney, Lillian Wilson, Jessie Lahmer, Barbara McVie, Olive Christensen, Muriel Burton, Mavis Ockenden and Gwen Pready.

The second play's cast included Kenneth Silburn, Gordon Roger, Kathleen Lockley, Edith Benson, Allan Hall, Eric Rossiter, Jim Denniston and Leonard Simmons. During an intermission film were shown on the school's new projector, depicting the sinking of the Graf Spee and the Royal Visit to Victoria.

Letters to the Editor

CARRYING LUNCHES

To the Editor:—Many of us Americans came to see your gardens and flowers last week. We were surprised to read this item in the morning paper:

"Guests at the Empress Hotel were startled recently to see a visiting U.S. resident and his wife stroll into the lobby, fish out a bag of sandwiches and a thermos bottle and calmly eat their lunch."

On inquiry from the management I find this did not happen at the Empress Hotel and never has happened, the management said, as in the first place it is not a custom of Americans to carry lunches when they travel—it is a Canadian custom. The C.P.R., I feel sure, would object to such publicity which would have the effect of turning the Empress into a fourth-rate hostelry.

EX-SERVICE MAN'S PROBLEM
To the Editor:—I am acquainted with several men who served three or four months in the army and then, after undergoing a very strict second physical examination, were discharged. Now if the war continues for any length of time, many of these men will undoubtedly be acceptable to our armed forces, especially as they were among the first to offer their lives for the country. In the meantime, some of them have been unsuccessfully looking for work since before Christmas. It doesn't seem to me that relief, even if they can't get it, is the proper recompense to offer these men who are till anxious to give everything they can for their King and for us. Isn't there something that can be done for them?

ERNEST McDOWALL.

To the Editor:—

Said (the Pacific to the Atlantic, "Please may I use your salt. Because this war's a beastly bore." "The really not my fault."

"I know you have your troubles. And your indignation too. But still the facts will always be my best friend."

"Now submarines are wonderful—Oh, how they dive and swim! But deeper down beyond renown They're out of step with him."

"What mother bears her latest child To give a water's grave—To satisfy the hunger lust Of mortal men who have?"

"Great Scott! Upon the ocean shore And way out everywhere. The anchor was fine," he whispered. Me From out the big Archchairs!"

Again the Walrus speaks and cries, "Away with all this stuff, As soon as Justice reigns supreme We'll all have had enough."

And on this basis let us unite our Loose Ends. Oh! Oh!

VETERANS GIVE UP PENSIONS

Ten veterans of the First World War are now surrendering either the whole or part of their pensions to Canada's war cause. A pensioner of London, Ontario, surrenders his monthly pension of $21 from March, 1940. Another pensioner from Killam, Alberta, authorizes a deduction of $11.25 per month. The other eight, making contributions from their monthly pension, include a major-general now resident in Italy and a private resident in Greece.

Fags and Mail Wanted Most

Send all the cigarettes you can spare and write your friends serving overseas as frequently as you can.

This is the advice of Corp. P. M. Lindsay, a member of the Seaforth Highlanders, invalided home from England with Ples. William Woods, George Reid and Horn, and sent to Victoria for medical treatment.

"Cigarettes are very expensive in England, and it costs more to buy 'makings' than the manufactured cig." Corp. Lindsay said. "The boys live from day to day for mail from home."

Corp. Lindsay reports the Seaforths in fine spirits and anxious to get into action.

The Canadians find food prices high, and for that reason the club operated by B.C. House and the Beaver and King George and Queen Elizabeth clubs are well patronized, as they sell at prices below ordinary restaurants.

LEARNING FRENCH

Canadian soldiers may learn to speak French like natives while they are overseas. More than 100 linguaphones have been installed at Aldershot for members of the Canadian Active Service Force interested in learning French, and for speakers of French wishing to learn English.

It is part of the educational program for the Canadian First Division which was inaugurated on March 18 by the Canadian Legion War Services under the direction of Robert England, M.C., M.A., and Lieut.-Col. H. L. DeMartigny.

Graphic story of the part H.M.C.S. Assiniboine played in the capture of the German merchant ship Hanover was given by Robert Allen, son of Mrs. R. Allen of Heriot Bay, near Comox, when the latter was home on leave recently.

The Assiniboine was cruising in company with H.M.S. Dunedin when they sighted the Hanover. This was in March but the story has only just been released by the British censor.

Mr. Allen said that the German sailors attempted to scuttle their ship and set it afire. The Canadian sailors went on board the Hanover and thought they had put out the blaze but three hours afterward it broke out again and the whole forward part was in flames. The Hanover at that time was listing badly and if the fire had not been subdued she would probably have sunk. Despite an angry sea with a heavy swell the Assiniboine went alongside the blazing vessel and grappled it with hurricane hawsers. Hoses from Assiniboine were thrown on the Hanover and a detachment of Canadian sailors went on board fighting the flames for about an hour before bringing them under control. Then the Assiniboine and the Dunedin towed the Hanover into Kingston, Jamaica.

The Assiniboine is one of the Canadian destroyers patrolling the Atlantic coast of Canada and co-operating with the British fleet there. She was in company with the light cruiser Dunedin when the Hanover was taken. The Dunedin was so named because the cost of her was provided by the people of New Zealand as part of their contribution to the Royal Navy.

ANOTHER ARMY PAPER

Add to the list of breezy army papers the "General Alarm." The paper is crowded with the personal paragraphs that bring laughs around the camp, but might start a libel if published in the public prints. Editor Rawson, who has made a good job of his mimeograph newspaper, suggests a paper be printed once a week for the 5th (B.C.) Coast Brigade, or better still, a garrison paper, to include the whole area of Victoria.

ROBERT SERVICE UP TO DATE

George E. McElroy, a corporal with the Canadians at Aldershot, gives promise of being the Robert Service of the present war. One of his first efforts, "Johnny Canuck, Goes to Tea," stirs memories of Service's poems of the last war, "Rhymes of a Red Cross Man." The soldier-poet of today writes:

We left our ploughs on the prairies
And our trap lines far in the north.
What a bunch of blinkin' heroes we were
That sailed into the Firth of

The Motherland called and we answered.
Over the seas we came.
"Bring on your war; we'll fight it!"

The sons of the Empire are game!"
Heroes, a shilling a dozen,
Each one ready to show his stuff.
"Our lives we'll use as poker chips—
To show the Lion doesn't bluff!"

But the Lion had plenty of heroes,
Litters shed bred here at home.
And though she was glad of the answer
Of her soldiers from 'cross the foam.

She had all the warriors she needed
To fight for the land of the free.
So she warmly welcomed the Johnny Canucks
And invited them all out to tea.

"Just be patient," she told us,
"For this is a war of nerves
And there's just as much glory for him who waits
As there is for him who serves."

We know that you all are willing.
You proved that to us before.
But there's nothing for it but to stand by Till this grows to a man-sized war."

So the Johnny Canucks, they heeded
As they enjoyed their little spree.
For though they came for blood and thunder,
They were given crumpets and tea.

Mother's Day Tea Is Delightful Affair

In celebration of Mother's Day, Mrs. Alex. McDermott opened her charming home, "Grace Manor," The Uplands, yesterday afternoon to the members of the Junior Auxiliary of St. Joseph's Hospital, when they entertained at a delightful tea given in honor of their mothers. Even the very young members escorted their mothers to the tea.

Masses of lovely spring and summer blossoms were used throughout the reception rooms. The guests, who were welcomed by Mrs. McDermott, the president, Miss Rhoda Howard, and the convener, Mrs. P. W. LaCroix, enjoyed the piano selections by Miss Ruth Nelson, and also strolled in the pretty garden.

The tea table was centered with a lovely arrangement of pale pink rose buds and maiden hair fern, lighted by tall pink tapers. Presiding during the tea hour were: Mrs. Reed Paige Clark, Mrs. Frank J. Sehl, Mrs. E. A. Colbert, Mrs. Ernest Eve, Mrs. A. P. Windau and Mrs. Freeman, while assisting in serving were the Misses Nan Eve, Ruth Windan, Bernadette Colbert, Dorothy Freeman, Anna Byrom, Muriel Craig, Claudia Jesse, Mary Hood, Gladys Beasley, Mary Lou Bryant and Kathleen McLean.

The sum realized will greatly help the auxiliary in reaching their objective for the year.

Convent Alumnae at Mary's Day Mass

Former-pupils of convents in many parts of the world attended the annual Mary's Day Mass and breakfast at St. Ann's Academy Saturday morning, under the auspices of the Canadian Federation of Convent Alumnae. There were registrations from convents in Brussels, England, Ireland and many parts of North America.

At breakfast the members were greeted by Sister Superior, Sister Mary Theodora, Federation sister and Miss Kathleen Nesbitt, Mary's Day chairman. Miss Louise Meehan and Miss Wenonah Scott arranged the dining-room with daffodils and hawthorne.

BORN IN ENGLAND

Born in London, she was at school in Belgium when the first Great War started. She returned at once to her home and, as a high school girl, witnessed most of the German air raids on London. She fears that the present conflict will bring even more frightful experiences.

"It is a most critical time for me to gain my first experience in Parliament," Mrs. Nielsen said, "and I know everybody will be mainly concerned with the war effort."

"But we must not neglect the immediate domestic problems, and those that will inevitably arise after the war. If we neglect those problems we will lose the war, even if we defeat our enemies in the field."

HER PLATFORM

Adequate prices for farm products, education and medical reform and elimination of profiteering are the basic planks in Mrs. Nielsen's platform.

Mrs. Nielsen visited Parliament Hill Saturday. Dr. Arthur Beauchamp, clerk of the House of Commons, greeted the new member, who will be the only woman in the chamber, had her sign the roll and take the oath, and assigned her to the sixth floor office quarters, occupied for 18 years by Agnes MacPhail, first woman to be elected to the Canadian Parliament, who went down to defeat in the March 26 general election.

The fresh yeast stimulates sluggish digestive activity and speeds up the assimilation of food. Laboratory tests have shown this is an action of the yeast itself—entirely distinct from known vitamin action. The vitamins are needed for steady nerves and vitality.

Only in Fleischmann's High-Vitamin Yeast can you get such an abundant supply of the 4 important vitamins A, B, D and G, and all the vitamins of the amazing vitamin B complex.

Saving Certificates To Aid War Finance

OTTAWA—Plans for the sale of War Savings Certificates and the widespread acceptance of individual thrift programs as a war effort are now being organized. Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of Finance, has announced the appointment of W. H. Somerville of Waterloo, Ont., and de Gaspé Beaubien of Montreal, as national chairmen of the National War Savings Committee.

MR. CHRIS SPENCER

Chris Spencer has been appointed British Columbia chairman of the War Savings Committee. Provincial committees, to be announced in the near future, will be representative of agriculture, labor, industry, finance, education and the professions.

War Savings Certificates, to be sold in multiples of $5, are designed to give everyone, including school children, an opportunity to share in the war effort in Canada's fight for freedom. In addition to making a very effective contribution to the mobilization of Canadian resources, War Savings Certificates provide an opportunity by which every Canadian, old and young, may build up a reserve of purchasing power.

The chairman of the British Columbia War Savings Committee is a life-long resident of the province of British Columbia. He forces had "maintained their positions everywhere."

"French troops have been thrown back west of the Ourthe and in southern Belgium. Our troops are there in a fluid advance and are beginning to approach the goal set up."

"South and southeastward from Zweibrücken (on the West-wall-Magint front), our positions were moved forward and several hundred prisoners were taken. The advance of our army was supported effectively by the air force with attacks on troop concentrations, marching columns and railroads."

"The air force continues its great battle for air superiority over the western area of operations with noticeable success. In all, on May 12, 320 planes were destroyed, among them 58 in air fights, 72 by anti-aircraft fire and rest on the ground. Twenty-five planes were brought down during the British attack at Maas-

Belgium and Holland Show Germans What Queen Wilhelmina Meant By 'Flaming Protest'

Dutch anti-aircraft guns are shown above, blazing away at German planes Holland's dike system, which is proving a fine line of defence for the Dutch, hampers German advance. Dynamite blew open many dikes.

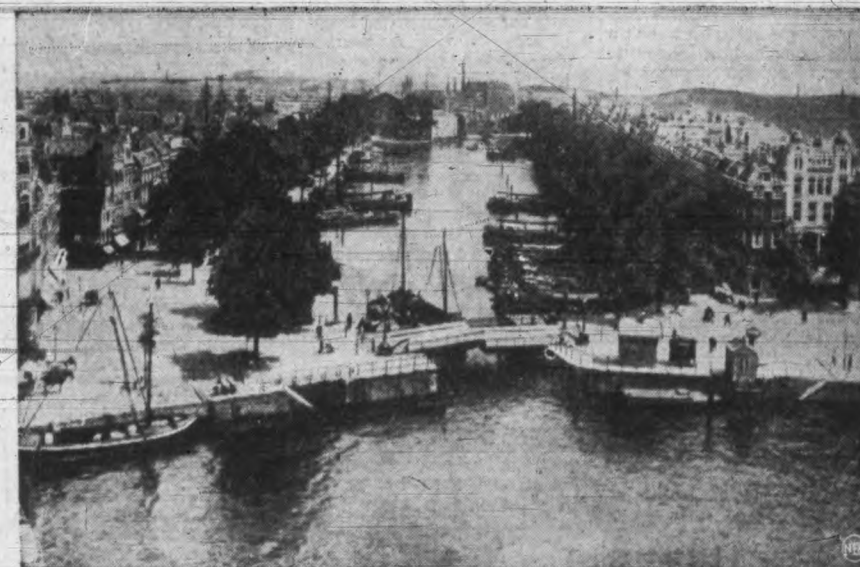

Huge Belgian gun being hauled into position to blast at advancing German hordes, who once again are making little Belgium a battlefield.

Belgium's beautiful capital, shown above, has been bombed a number of times by German planes but business is going on as usual today. The tall building in the above picture is the Palace of Justice.

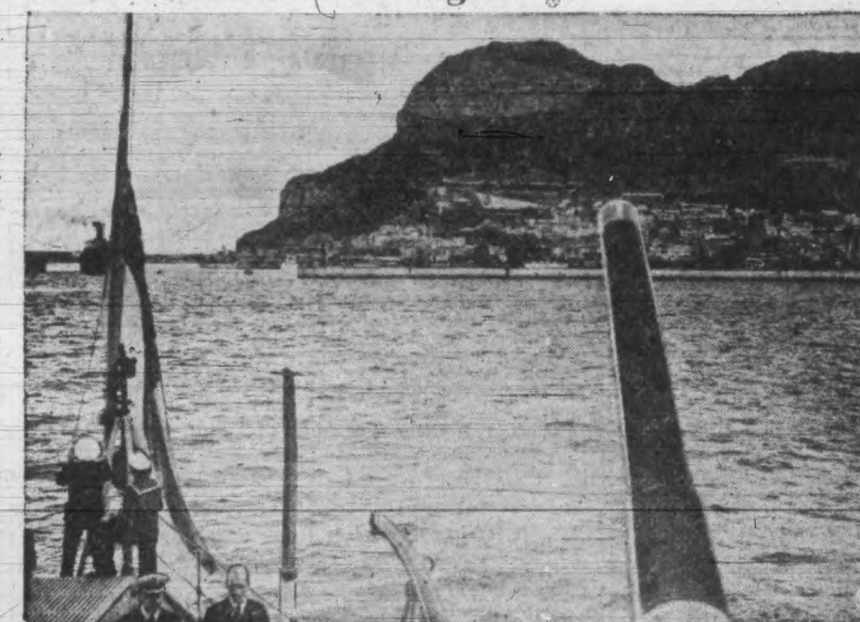

Blasting of dikes by Dutch, as chief defence measure, was anticipated by Germans so Nazi troops trained long hours in using collapsible rubber boats to cross water barriers in invasion of Netherlands.

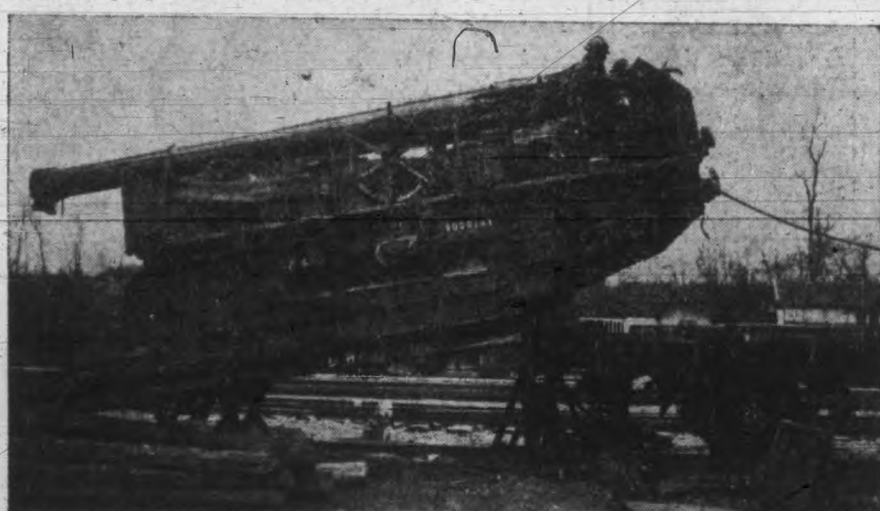

Rotterdam, above, important Dutch coast town, which is scene of heavy fighting, between German parachute troops and Dutch soldiers.

Two Towers of Strength

GIBRALTAR—The so far impregnable Rock of Gibraltar—guardian of the Mediterranean Sea's western gate and of Britain's lifeline to her eastern Dominions. The great fortress-mountain is seen from the deck of the British aircraft carrier Courageous.

"Mechanization of mechanization" might title photo above, as heavy French gun crawls on tractor mount to railroad car for transportation to "the front." Tractor mount makes guns like this useful over soft ground, like that in Low Countries. Photo just reached New York by clipper.

All Egyptian army leaves canceled; native troops mount guard at anti-aircraft listening post.

Belgium's famous seaport, Antwerp, lies at the western end of Albert Canal, one of the country's main defence lines. So far this fine city, shown above, has escaped heavy bombardment by the Germans.

Wearing ancient tarbooshes, though modern steel helmets hang ready at their side, Egyptian troops take posts at artillery observation post.

RHODES—Italy's tower of strength in the eastern Mediterranean—the island of Rhodes, heavily fortified naval base guarding the entrance to the Aegean Sea. Rhodes is the largest of the Dodecanese Islands, off Turkey, where Italy is making tremendous concentrations of ships and troops.

By PETE SALLAWAY

IT MIGHT HAVE been true that pitchers were ahead of the hitters, but there was nothing strange about Alfred Lovell Dean beating the New York Yankees twice within eight days... giving the world champions only one run and 10 hits in 19 innings.

Chubby Dean is not a left-handed first baseman who became a pitcher.

He is a left-handed pitcher who became a first baseman.

When Dean reported fresh from the Duke campus in 1936, Connie Mack used him at first base to take advantage of his hitting.

Young Dean—he is not yet 24—obviously was miscast, and it has taken him this long to find himself as a major league pitcher which is not unusual.

And it is fortunate for both Dean and the Philadelphia Athletics that the collegian wasn't a capable enough first sacker to hang on there longer than he did.

Bucky Walters of the Cincinnati Reds, greatest pitcher in baseball in 1939, wasted seven years as a mediocre third baseman.

It ordinarily takes a pitcher five years to find himself.

Jim Turner of the Reds spent 12 years in the minors before coming up to win 20 games for a Boston National League club the attack of which was almost totally ineffective.

Lou Pette, who joined the Bees with Turner, and matched the Tennessee's performance, had spent nine campaigns in the minors.

Luke Hamlin, who copped 20 games for Brooklyn last season, worked nine years with the little fellows, before and after Detroit looked at him in '33 and '34.

Bob Klinger had been in the minors nine seasons when he escaped from the St. Louis Cardinals chain in time to come within a gnat's eyelash of helping Pittsburgh to a pennant in '38. Fritz Ostermuller of the Boston Red Sox and Bill Posedel of the Bees served eight-year apprenticeships.

Walter Higbe of the Philadelphia Phillies and Jack Knott of the Chicago White Sox required seven years to make the big league grade.

Until John McGraw and the New York Giants paged him, a brief inspection by Detroit was all the brilliant Carl Hubbell had to show for six seasons in the smaller circuits.

Tyrus Cobb told Hub to forget the screwball which made him the greatest pitcher in the business... said it would get him nowhere in a hurry and ruin his arm. But at 37 Hubbell is still very much among those present.

Curtis Davis and Morton Cooper of the Cardinals, Cliff Melton of the Giants and Thornton Lee of the White Sox each pitched a half dozen years down below.

Davis had to win 22 games for San Francisco one season and 20 (Turn to Page 13, Col. 8)

Edgelow's Goal Wins Polo Game

Scoring a clean cut shot in the final chucker, Geoff Edgelow, captain of the Reds, led his team to victory over Willows Park, 4 to 3, in exhibition polo at the Willows yesterday afternoon.

It was a fast, clean game all the way, with the score tied three times. Only one foul shot was called by referee George Tyson.

Edgelow put his team in the lead soon after the start in the third chucker, but Dr. M. L. Olsen evened the count before the fourth chucker.

In the fourth, the Reds went into the lead again when Harold Husband found the goal-mouth with a shot. Dage came back a minute or so later to score his second goal for the Willows team and to deadlock the score again.

With his team having the edge on the Willows club on their shooting, Edgelow followed up on a march down the field in the fifth and final chucker, to score the fourth and winning goal.

The largest crowd of the season was in attendance.

It was the first game this season for Husband and Dr. Olsen. Husband was riding the well-known pony Bridget, recently purchased from Major J. Thorn.

DEFEAT BRENTWOOD

The Victoria Cricket Club scored another victory in friendly play Saturday against Brentwood College at the latter club's grounds. The score was 126 to 55.

Twamley led the victors in the batting end of the game with 47 runs. He was bowled by Angus Sparks who was second highest batsman with 24 runs. Angus also sent him to the sidelines.

A. Gillespie led the college team in scoring with 31 runs. Martin scored 13 runs for the second best performance of the team in front of the stumps.

Baird turned in a smart performance for Victoria in bowling, taking five wickets for 20 runs. Macdonald took three wickets for 12 runs for the same average.

Angus was best bowler for Brentwood, taking three wickets for 17 runs. Ian Gillespie bowled four for 33.

These victories hoisted Bridgegwood's crew into the leadership spot in the pennant race.

The six-inning evening attraction was a thriller in spite of a host of boots by both sides. For four innings the teams traveled on an even 2 to 2 footing, but after Eagles had added one run in the opening half of the fifth, the Athletics went on a heavy-slugging spree in their half of the session, bunching five hits to drive a like number of men over the four-bag route and taking a 7 to 3 lead.

SIX-RUN BARRAGE

With night drawing in quite fast it looked as though Athletics had established a safe margin. But such was not the case. When Bridgegwood's lads came to bat in the sixth's opening the "three-out" sign was not on the board before six runners had crossed the home-plate, the result of three hits, including Steve Dunc's two-bagger, and a trio of costly boots. This made the score stand 9 to 7. In the final of the sixth it looked like Athletics might succeed in tying things up, but they fell just one run short of doing that. Sonny Walker stepped into a hot drive to left field that Dunc couldn't handle to drive home a runner. With only one man down Walker was on third. Other batters couldn't get him home. It was Al Condon's single scoring Bridgegwood, running for Dunc in the sixth that proved to be the deciding marker.

Freddie Ritchie, popular Eagle's left fielder, took one of pitcher Sonny Walker's fast heaves on the head in the third. He was out temporarily, but returned to take his place in the field immediately. Later, however, he was forced to stop playing. He was given a big hand.

In the matinee attraction between Eagles and Navy, it was a good ball game for six innings. But in the last of the seventh the Navy went to pieces and when things finally settled down again the Eagles had eight more runs to their credit, more than enough to ensure victory.

Eagles Win Two

Top Baseball Race

Deadlocked in the dusty-old cellar, Pitzer and Nex and Navy baseball clubs will be gunning for a lift to a better early-season standing tonight when they clash at Athletic Park in a McGavin Cup fixture. These outfits suffered setbacks in their opening tussles last week.

Manager Bill Bridgegwood's Eagles nine crashed into the 1940 season on Saturday with an ungle-like roar, by posting a pair of victories in a double-bill program played on the enclosures diamond.

The feathered tribe, with their guns booming in a terrific seventh-inning bombardment, emerged from the afternoon game with a 13 to 3 triumph over Navy and in the evening after a wild and woolly, but exciting battle nosed through with a 9 to 5 triumph over Eddie Kelpin's Tillium Athletics.

These victories hoisted Bridgegwood's crew into the leadership spot in the pennant race.

New York Yankees still are to be reckoned with in the American Baseball League pennant race—as everybody believed all along.

The way they bounced off the bottom of the standings yesterday to shut out Boston Red Sox 4 to 0 was a performance so forceful no skeptic could doubt that here were the real world's champions.

Red Ruffing whipped out that old fast ball and spread six hits smartly, struck out eight and walked only two. His teammates gave him superb support—no errors and two double plays—to keep Boston from getting a man past second.

This not only ended the jinx of bunched pitchers had held over them, and an eight-game losing streak, but it also stopped a six-game winning streak for Boston's league leaders and was the first time they had been shut out this season.

In the National League Cincinnati Reds proved once again that they, too, have the stuff of champions and are going to be hard to dislodge from first place. They slaughtered St. Louis Cardinals 7 to 1 and 13 to 4.

The double victory increased the Reds' margin to a full game over Brooklyn even though the Dodgers trounced the Phillies 5 to 3.

New York Giants edged out Boston Bees 3 to 2, the Giants' fifth straight win.

DEAN BELTED OUT

Chicago Cubs plastered another defeat on Pittsburgh Pirates, 7 to 5, when Bill Herman hit a three-run homer in the eighth. Dizzy Dean gave up a homer in the first inning and was belted out in the second.

Librarians Open Convention Today

Three distinguished library officials of British Columbia who are attending the opening of the 29th annual convention of the B.C. Library Association at the Empress Hotel this morning were, left to right: H. Norman Lidster, chairman of the Public Library Commission; Miss Anne Smith, head of the reference department of the University of British Columbia library who is slated for this year's presidency; and J. Ridington, also a member of the library commission and librarian of the University of British Columbia who will be succeeded by Dr. Kaye Lamb, provincial librarian, on his retirement at the end of August.

"Public libraries in British Columbia during the last 10 years have not come ahead as they should. They are not declining but they have not had the money they should have to undergo proper development," Dr. Kaye Lamb, retiring president, told delegates to the 29th convention of the British Columbia Library Association which opened in the Empress Hotel this morning.

About 50 delegates from Victoria, Vancouver Island, and the mainland attended this morning's session.

Although deploring the lack of progress of municipal libraries in the province, Dr. Lamb spoke highly of the development and progress of the three union libraries and the traveling libraries in the province.

Circulation of the union libraries throughout the country over the past year jumped from 172,000 in 1929 to 370,000 last year, he said. The union groups served a population of 90,000. The circulation showed annual increases during recent years, he said.

Although public library associations were much despised, Dr. Lamb asked, "what else can you do in an area as large as British Columbia?" He compared the rural service with that of Washington. In B.C. there were less than two persons to the square mile while in Washington the figure was 24. Yet the B.C. service was much better.

The traveling libraries are also showing substantial gains and these he regarded as the best means of serving wide areas. Of 2,300 books circulated by the traveling libraries each was read about six times during a four or six month period, an average which he considered excellent.

The increase in the servicing of school libraries was also emphasized. In 1929 there were 58 schools serviced and last year there were 268.

In addition to Dr. Lamb's report other business this morning included the receiving of routine reports and their adoption. Statements were heard from Mrs. A. Shaw, Victoria, secretary; Miss Joan Bramley, Victoria, treasurer, and various committee chairmen.

The advantage of newspapers over radio as a means of advertising and securing publicity were emphasized by some speakers during the discussion of the publicity committee's report. During the last year the association conducted a series of library talks over the radio but it was not generally agreed the response had been all that was desired. Several speakers felt an up-to-date weekly newspaper column would serve the purpose of interesting those not now interested in libraries more efficiently than the radio talks.

This affair will be held in conjunction with the annual parish show of the Saanich Jersey Cattle Club, which was such an outstanding success last year.

Arrangements are being made to have sheep dog trials for the cup presented by Hon. N. W. Whittaker, M.P.P. for Saanich.

Monthly meeting of the Amalgamated Civil Servants of Canada will be held tomorrow evening at 8 at 301 Union Building. Report of the delegate to the national convention will be presented.

Obituaries

George M. Perdue, Ex-Detective, Dies

George Michael Perdue, for many years a widely-known and much-respected member of Victoria's police force, died suddenly at his residence on Vancouver Street last night. He would have been 87 next month.

Mr. Perdue suffered a serious illness some years ago and was confined to bed, but in recent months had made an amazing recovery and every day visited the business section of the city, to read the Times bulletins, chat with old friends and enjoy a cup of coffee.

Born in Ontario, Mr. Perdue came to Victoria 50 years ago and in 1893 joined the police force. In 1898 he went to the detective branch and became a sergeant in 1909, being promoted to inspector two years later when Thomas Palmer was named deputy chief. In December, 1921, Mr. Perdue retired, being succeeded by the late Harry J. O'Leary.

His early years with the police department covered the hectic days of the Klondike gold rush, when gold-craved miners by the score came to Victoria. They, with large numbers of Orientals who were pouring into the city, made the town lively, and many and exciting were the tales Mr. Perdue could tell of police midnight visits to famous haunts of Chinatown.

Mr. Perdue leaves a sister, Mrs. Martha Irvine, and a niece and nephew in Ontario.

He was actively connected with Masonic work and was a member of the Precinct and Royal Arch and the Glend Temple, Spokane. The remains are at the Thomson Funeral Home, from where the funeral will take place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, followed by cremation.

Propose Grades For Librarians

Grading of professional librarians in British Columbia by a board of certification set up under provincial statute, was urged by the British Columbia Library Association at its 29th annual convention here this morning.

The association will attempt to have the necessary legislation passed at the fall session of the B.C. Legislature.

Establishment of such a grading system has long been a contentious matter among librarians of the province, and this morning's action followed recommendation of a special committee with Miss Ann Smith, Vancouver, as chairman, which prepared an exhaustive resume on the question.

The legislation to be sought from the government would create a board of four members whose task would be the grading and certifying of librarians. The resolution also provides that present librarians would not be affected by the proposed legislation.

The board would comprise two members named by the B.C. Library Association, one named by the Public Library Commission and one named by the superintendent of education.

The telegram said he was lost after air operations yesterday. He joined the R.A.F. in 1937 after learning to fly here.

Tonight at 8, in the Campbell Building, E. E. Richards will take for his topic "The Old Lion Awakes." He will discuss the recent stirring events in the British House of Commons and the sudden shift of the war front to the Low Countries. Lantern slides of Holland will be used, and statements of Chamberlain and Hitler dealt with.

The number of words in an advertisement will be counted on the basis of the space occupied by the advertisement.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of an advertisement ordered for more than one issue. Any claim for rebate on account of errors or omissions must be made within 30 days from the date of the error, otherwise the claim will not be allowed.

Pancho, Klatawa, Sunday Winners

Dinghy and snipe classes competed in the first of the "B" series of races for the George Broom and Johnson Cups Sunday at Cadboro Bay.

Pancho, piloted by H. T. Barnes, was the first dinghy across the finishing line, with Penguin (Ashie) close in her wake.

Skipper Barnes obtained the advantage of the brisk southwest breeze at the outset and with Penguin hugging the lee shore he succeeded in maintaining the lead throughout the race.

Klatawa, with F. Ward at the tiller, crossed the mark first for the snipes.

The course was quadrilateral to Patterson Point, Cattle Point, Flower Island, Cadboro beach mark and home, twice round.

W. H. Golby was officer of the day, assisted by Ben Temple, starter, and J. Healy, timekeeper. The dinghies started at 10:55 a.m., the snipes getting away five minutes later.

Finishing times follow: Dinghies — Pancho (Barnes), 11:58.35; Penguin (Ashie), 11:59.05; Onway (Anstey), 12:05.05; Curlew (Bellamy), 12:12.30.

Kismet, sailed by H. Gann, did not finish.

Snipes — Klatawa (Ward), 12:11.15; Ishkoodah (Evans), 12:11.25; P.D.Q. (Griffith), 12:11.40; No. 1126 (Moran), 12:12.30.

Activity in West, W. M. Neal Finds

Winnipeg, Man. — Definite signs of increased activity in western Canada and extending to Vancouver Island and expectation of a record-breaking tourist business on the coast this summer, is reported by W. M. Neal, vice-president, Canadian Pacific Railway western line, returning from an extended visit to the Pacific seaboard.

Mr. Neal covered most of the British Columbia coast service runs including all the West Coast of Vancouver Island ports as far as Port Alice. He also visited the east-side of Vancouver Island to Prince Rupert.

Preparations, he said, are under way for a heavy halibut fishing season and the whaling ships were already out in anticipation of big business.

Speaking of the movement of people to Vancouver Island, he said, there was a noticeable settlement of some of the older prairie residents, chiefly Saskatchewan, at Vancouver Island points and much satisfaction was expressed at the conditions prevailing there.

Visiting the Gulf Islands, particularly Salt Spring Island, Mr. Neal was aware of more or less change and activity, some of which was undoubtedly due to Canada's participation in the war.

"All branches of our business," he said, "are making preparations for the heavy tourist stream coming into Canada. Everyone is impressed with the necessity of giving our visitors every consideration, especially in such matters as exchange and traveling convenience. People are looking forward to the opening of the Big Bend Highway from Revelstoke to Golden, B.C., officially set for June 23, and the Banff-Jasper Highway is expected to attract many visitors."

Of British Columbia's fruit and vegetable crop prospects Mr. Neal had only good to say and prospects for the entire west he found highly encouraging except only for the uncertainty existing because of the grave international situation.

Painted Netherlands Flag on Nazi Ship

GUAYÁQUIL, Ecuador (AP)—The crew of the 1,271-ton German freighter Cerigo, in port here since the outbreak of war, awakened to find a huge flag of the Netherlands and the words "Long Live the Netherlands" painted on her bow. The painters were believed to have been sailors from the Netherlands steamship Manto, which sailed Friday night.

War Risk Rates Up

MONTREAL (CP)—War risk rates for Allied and neutral ships carrying cargo from Canada to Holland and Belgium have been increased from 3½ per cent to 7 per cent, it was announced during the week-end by the Canadian war risk committee, representing private insurance companies here.

Wheat

CHICAGO (AP)—A wave of selling that broke out in the wheat pit during the final hour today pushed prices down to net losses of around 3 cents a bushel. Prices of other grains also were lower.

The liquidation accompanied grain trade pessimism over war developments and was induced partly by extreme weakness of securities prices. Talk of improving crop conditions and favorable weather, with showers forecast for the next 24 hours, also influenced the selling.

Wheat closed 2½ to 3 cents lower than Saturday, May 11.05½ to $1.05½, July 1.05½ to $1.05½, corn 1½ to 1½ down, May 60½, July 67½ to 67½, oats 1 to 1 cent lower.

Winnipeg (CP)—Grain traders remained idle today as the Winnipeg Grain Exchange was closed in observance of Arbor Day. Operations will be resumed tomorrow.

BIG ZEBALLOS IRON DEPOSIT REPORTED

A report on the F. L. Iron property at Zeballos, prepared by John S. Stevenson, has been issued by the Department of Mines.

Mr. Stevenson estimates there are 984,028 tons of magnetite ore relatively well assured, with a possible total of 1,425,840 tons. The ore runs a little better than 67 per cent iron.

The property is owned by A. W. Ford and associates of Zeballos. It consists of six claims slightly more than six miles from the town of Zeballos.

The Mines Department also is conducting a report on saline and hydro-magnetic deposits in the province, compiled by J. M. Cummings of the department staff.

Calgary Oils

CALGARY (CP)—Oil issues declined sharply on Calgary Stock Exchange today. Losses ranged from fractions to 15 points.

Transfers 13,885 shares. Oilfield at 88, was off 15 points; C. and E. was offered at 1.69, off 6 points from the week-end close. Royal Canadian lost 4 to 17½; Lethbridge Petroleum, 1½ to 17½; Anglo-Canadian traded in broken lots at 75, off 8 points.

London Market

LONDON (AP)—A sharp rally in British government bonds encouraged support elsewhere in the security market today. A national government bond, was raised 1½ points to 107½.

Domestic rails overcame initial weakness and most industrial leaders added a few points. Foreign loans moved against the general trend. Steel Canada dropped five points.

OUT OUR WAY—

Baltic Is One of 'Keys' to War

In front page news these days we often read something about the Baltic. This sea of northern Europe is important in the present warfare.

Baltic Sea and region around it.

The Baltic Sea has many countries around its borders including Russia, Finland, Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

One little fact may have something to do with the outcome of the war in Europe—"Water with only a little salt in it will freeze more quickly than water with a good deal of salt."

More than 250 rivers and large streams pour fresh water into the Baltic Sea. This water makes the sea far less salty than it would be otherwise. It is only about one-fourth as salty as the Atlantic.

There are great stretches of the Baltic which freeze up in winter. The northern end of the sea, the Gulf of Bothnia, is frozen to such an extent that steamers cannot use it.

In most years the Gulf of Bothnia is not fit for steamers from November to early May. This closes the ports of northern Sweden, and blocks the taking of iron ore to Germany down the Baltic Sea.

The mines of northern Sweden have produced a great deal of the iron to keep Germany's war machine going. The iron is high grade, and is in demand all year around.

Until lately, Swedish iron was shipped to Norway in winter. It went to the port of Narvik, then steamers carried it down the Norwegian coast to Germany. So long as the Allies block Narvik, Germany will lose her easy winter water route for Swedish iron.

There remains the question of summer transport. With the opening of the Gulf of Bothnia this month, the Baltic water route is free.

Yet there is this point: The Baltic is shallow compared to other seas of its size. The average depth is less than 350 feet, and it is possible to anchor mines where a sea is not very deep. Some work along this line was reported done soon after the German invasion of Norway. Mines can be laid by submarines and airplanes, as well as by ordinary mine-laying ships. It is likely that Germany will have a hard time keeping the Baltic free for summer use.

HOROSCOPE

Tuesday, May 14
Adverse planetary aspects are active today. Disturbing news may be expected in the press.

This is not a fortunate configuration for women who may be fearful of future troubles, especially those affecting the family income. The stars encourage initiative in the form of job-hunting. Girls should train for wage-earning vocations, or useful war work, even though parents may be comparatively prosperous at this time.

Merchants should profit today which seems to promise good trade in necessary articles, especially food and wearing apparel. The sway is unlikely for any form of speculation. The stock market is to fluctuate sharply through this month, in which the third trine of Uranus and Neptune will be completed.

Japan is under a sinister planetary direction which may involve the United States in serious problems. Secret pacts are likely, and foes may become dangerous allies for the ambitious people of the Orient.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of business hardships. Caution should be the watchword. Domestic happiness is indicated.

Children born on this day probably will be self-reliant and intelligent. They may be difficult to direct, but should not be hampered in carrying out their ambitions.

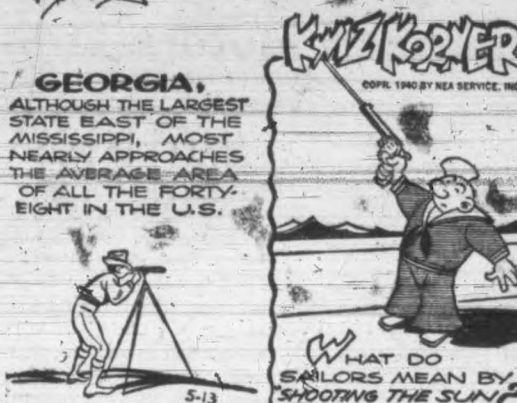

COLWOOD

The monthly meeting of the Colwood Women's Institute will be in the form of a garden party. Mrs. S. Goodall having asked the members to meet in her garden, Wednesday, May 15, at 2.30.

Smoking was called "drinking" by early English tobacco users.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I have a boy who will be 18 years old this month and who declares his intention of marrying as soon as he reaches that age. The girl he wants to marry is a good girl, but four years his senior. I am not opposed to his marrying her when the proper time comes, but what chance for a successful marriage has any boy with no special training along any line of endeavor, and no moneyed father to back him up? How can I instill into his mind a little of that golden elixir, common sense?

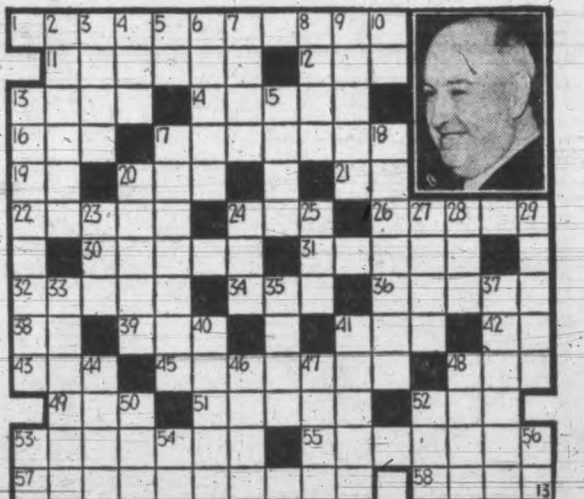

Answer: I think that it would take a surgical operation on your son's head to put any common sense into it, for evidently he has shut his mind against all arguments and is bent on rushing to destruction.

It is useless to tell him that at 18 no boy knows his own mind, or has the faintest idea of what qualities he wants in a wife and that the girl he is in love with now he wouldn't have on a bet when he is 25, or even 21.

It is a waste of words to try to show him that "a young man married is a young man harried," as the old proverb says, and that if he handicaps himself with a family now he will be poor and hard-run all of his days, because he will never have any chance to save up the money to take advantage of any opportunity that comes his way and thus get ahead in the world.

But can't you find some object lesson in your community that will bring home to him his folly in making a premature marriage? Can't you find some poor, dragged-down, seedy, discouraged young husband and father who is a tired, worn-out old man before he ever comes to man's estate? Get such a man as this to talk to your son, and tell him what a curse a man brings on himself who marries in his teens, and it will have far more effect than anything you can say.

KARLOFF IN NEW HORROR PICTURE

Heralded as the greatest of horror films, "The Man They Could Not Hang," new Columbia picture starring Boris Karloff, is now at the Rio Theatre. The picture is said to be one of the most compelling and fascinating tales of the phantom half-world between death and life ever to be screened.

Louis Hayward is also featured.

Notable Stage Drama Thursday

On Thursday, the Royal Theatre will present the play "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," by Robert E. Sherwood, with Raymond Massey in the title role.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is the most important drama of many years. It is not only the theatre at its very best, but it also reflects the true spirit of democracy.

"Abe Lincoln in Illinois" is in three acts and 12 scenes, and has to do with the life of the great emancipator from his youth in New-Salem, Illinois, in the 1830's until February 11, 1861, when, as the elected president of the United States, he left Springfield for the White House.

Mr. Massey, in the title role, gives a performance that would, regardless of his previous splendid record as a star, entitle him to the highest tribute for fine acting it would be possible to pay.

The cast in support of Mr. Massey includes: Muriel Kirkland as Mary Todd, Augusta Danby as Ann Rutledge, Clarence Chase as Stephen A. Douglas, Lewis Martin as Ninian Edwards, Arthur Griffin as Bowling Green, David Clark as William Herndon, George Christie as Mentor Graham, Helen Kingstead as Nancy Green and Calvin Thomas as Joshua Speed.

In "The Duke of West Point," first feature picture.

Raymond Massey in Robert E. Sherwood's great play "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," which will open at the Royal Victoria Theatre on Thursday.

TRICK OF FATE PAIRS COMICS

Robertson Hare's eminence in the screen world is due indirectly to his flair for writing, because it brought him in contact with Alfred Drayton, with whom he is starred in "So This Is London," the 20th Century-Fox release at the Plaza Theatre.

Their latest film, "So This Is London," shows how well they work together. Drayton is big, gruff and foreboding while Hare is an unobtrusive, timid little fellow who seems afraid of his shadow. There is constant fun as they go through their paces.

In the supporting cast of "So This Is London" are George Sanders, Berton Churchill, Fay Compton, Carla Lehmann, Stewart Granger, Lily Cahill, Mavis Clair, Ethel Reynell and Gracie West.

Thornton Freeland directed the film from a screen play by William Conselman which was based on George M. Cohan's play, "So This Is London," by Arthur Goodrich. Twentieth Century Productions Ltd. produced the film.

KAY KYSER IN SCREEN SHOW

Radio fans of Kay Kyser's popular air program will find added interest in the band leader's debut picture, "That's Right—You're Wrong," in which he is co-starred with Adolphe Menjou, at the Oak Bay Theatre.

The tuneful RKO radio film has Kyser playing himself, and the actual broadcasting of his program comprises one of the highlight sequences in the unique entertainment. The amusing story is laid in Hollywood and depicts the hectic experiences of Kyser and the members of his band when a movie studio signs them to a contract.
